

Everyone Is Talking About We Are Thomasse!

"The married comedy duo of Nick Afka Thomas and Sarah Ann Masse combine his droll British wit and her joke-packed American energy in this clever, cross-cultural sketch show." —ELISE CZAJKOWSKI, THE NEW YORK TIMES

Meet Nick Afka Thomas and Sarah Ann Masse, the hilarious British-American comedy duo known as We Are Thomasse (rhymes with "sassy"). From the New York Times and The New York Post, to the homepage of Funny or Die, We Are Thomasse is everywhere. Often likened to Elaine May and Mike Nichols, We Are Thomasse is the fast-paced, old-school comedy power-couple taking the LA and NYC comedy scenes by storm.

We Are Thomasse's British-American humo(u)r is clean but twisted, relying on high concepts, charmingly absurd characters, and clever verbiage. They keep it "Family Friendly"... even in that sketch about sluts. And the one about polite sex. And the one about saying "Yes!" to drugs. During We Are Thomasse's live shows, Nick and Sarah shoot high-concept joke after high-concept joke at an audience that can hardly keep up, they're so busy laughing!

"I'm not very keen on sketch comedy at the best of times... and not one (of We Are Thomasse's) went wrong... every single one was spot-on... every one was superb. That's probably about as much in one show as there was at the whole of the (Edinburgh) Fringe last year!" —JOHN FLEMING and KATE COPSTICK, THE GROUCHY PODCAST

The duo has monthly slots at the prestigious iO West and The People's Improv Theater (depending on which coast they're on that month). With 27 sketches in 55 minutes, their ability to produce a huge amount of hilarious, hard-hitting, high-brow material is capturing the attention of audiences across the world.

We Are Thomasse has performed their quick-witted, fast-paced, show over 32 times in four states, three countries, two continents, and one planet. Notable venues include UCB, the PIT, Broadway Comedy Club, iO West, North Carolina Comedy Arts Festival, the LA Scripted Comedy Festival, the Museum of Comedy and the Leicester Square Theatre, not to mention packed houses in London and Paris!

We Are Thomasse has just been asked back to the LA Scripted Comedy Festival to perform in a showcase slot. And their fresh, witty, cheeky, British-American digital sketches are repeatedly featured on Funny or Die.

“We Are Thomasse delivers a rapid fire series of characters and scenarios that keep you laughing and engaged from beginning to end.” —BRENDAN MCMORROW, PRODUCER, ABOVE AVERAGE
